

Canada-Ontario Job Grants Program (COJG)

Reimbursement for LMI Canada Programs

January 2023

Overview:

- LMI Canada programs are permissible for reimbursement when the program is positioned as a facilitated “training program”.
- The company receiving the training pays the full amount for the program upfront, submits an online form for approval, and after submission approval, the reimbursement is sent from the government to the client
- The maximum amount covered per trainee is $10,000
- Employers with 100 or more employees can receive a reimbursement of ½ of the training costs (pre-HST amount)
- Employers with fewer than 100 employees can receive 5/6 (83.3%) reimbursement of the training costs (pre-HST amount)
- A combined application amount of $25,000 or higher (pre-tax) requires an alternate quote. So the application needs to be less than the $25,000 level to avoid this requirement.
- Applicants must be employees of a company with no ownership position.
- There is a requirement for 6 months between the end of one COJG approved program completion and another approved program.
